Tax Collector (complete Parts 1-4)

Part 2: Certificates Owned by Applicant and Filed with Tax Deed Application

Enter the Face Amount of Certificate in Column 3 and the Interest in Column 4 for each certificate number. Add Columns 3 and 4 and enter the amount in Column 5.

Part 3: Other Certificates Redeemed by Applicant (Other than County)

Total. Add the amounts in Columns 3, 4 and 5

Part 4: Tax Collector Certified Amounts (Lines 1-7)

Line 1, enter the total of Part 2 plus the total of Part 3 above.

Total Paid, Line 7: Add the amounts of Lines 1-6

Line 6, Interest accrued by tax collector. Calculate the 1.5 percent interest accrued from the month after the date of application through the month this form is certified to the clerk. Enter the amount to be certified to the clerk on Line 6. The interest calculated by the tax collector stops before the interest calculated by the clerk begins. See Section 197.542, F.S., and Rule 12D-13.060(3), Florida Administrative Code.

The tax collector's interest for redemption at the time of the tax deed application is a cost of redemption, which encompasses various percentages of interest on certificates and omitted or delinquent taxes under Section 197.502, F.S. This interest is calculated before the tax collector calculates the interest in Section 197.542, F.S.

Attach certified statement of names and addresses of persons who must be notified before the sale of the property. Send this form and any required attachments to the Clerk of Court within 10 days after it is signed.

Clerk of Court (complete Part 5)

Line 13: Interest is calculated at the rate of 1.5 percent per month starting from the first day of the month after the month of certification of this form through the last day of the month in which the sale will be held. Multiply the calculated rate by the total of Line 7, minus Line 6, plus Lines 8 through 12. Enter the amount on Line 13.

Line 14: Enter the total of Lines 8-13. Complete Lines 15-18, if applicable.

ORDER

This CAUSE having come before the Office of Environmental Code
Enforcement Special Magistrate on the Petition of the Environmental Code Enforcement Officer for alleged violation of the ordinances of the County of Escambia, State of Florida, and the Special Magistrate having considered the evidence before him in the form of testimony by the Code Enforcement Officer and the respondent or representative, (See attached) as well as evidence submitted and after consideration of the appropriate sections of the Escambia County Code of Ordinances, the Special Magistrate finds that a violation of the Code of Ordinances _____

See Attached

has occurred and continues.

THEREFORE, The Special Magistrate being otherwise fully advised in the premises; it is hereby ORDERED that: William Tindall shall have until _____, 2006 to correct the violation and to bring the violation into compliance. Corrective action shall include: _____

See Attached

If you fail to fully correct the violation within the time required, you will be assessed a fine of $ 250.00 per day, commencing _____, 2006. This daily fine shall continue until this violation is abated and the violation brought into compliance or until as otherwise provided by law. Immediately upon your full correction of this violation, you should contact the Escambia County Environmental Code Enforcement Office in writing to request that they immediately inspect the property to make an official determination of whether the violation has been abated and brought into compliance.

If the violation is not abated within the specified time period, then the County may elect to abate the violation for you and the reasonable cost of such will be assessed against you and will constitute a lien on the property.

Costs in the amount of $ 150.00 are hereby awarded in favor of Escambia County as the prevailing party against William Tindall.

This fine shall be forwarded to the Board of County Commissioners. Under the authority of 162.09(1), F.S. and Sec. 30-34(d) of the Code of Ordinances, the Board of County Commissioners may make all reasonable repairs necessary to bring the property into compliance if the violator does not correct the violation by a specified date. The costs of such repairs shall be certified to the Special Magistrate and may be added to any fines imposed pursuant to this order.

All monies owing hereunder shall constitute a lien on all your real and personal property including any property involved herein, which lien can be enforced by foreclosure and as provided by law.

You have the right to appeal orders of the Special Magistrate to the Circuit Court of Escambia County. If you wish to appeal, you must give notice of such in writing to both the Environmental Code Enforcement Division at 6708 Plantation Road Pensacola, Florida 32504 and the Escambia County Circuit Court Clerk at the M.C. Blanchard Judicial Building, 190 Governmental Center, Pensacola, Florida 32501, no later than 30 days from the date of the Order. Failure to timely file a written Notice of Appeal will waive your rights to appeal.

Jurisdiction is retained to enter such further orders as may be appropriate and necessary.

DONE AND ORDERED at Escambia County, Florida on the 20th day of March, 2006.

William Tindall
2100 Pullman Circle
Pensacola, FL 32506

ADDENDUM TO ORDER DATED MARCH 20, 2006

THIS MATTER came for hearing by this Special Magistrate on March 14, 2006. The evidence considered included thirteen (13) exhibits produced by both Escambia County Enforcement Officer Steve Littlejohn, and Mr. William Tindall. In addition to the exhibits, testimony was heard from Mr. Littlejohn and six (6) neighboring property owners in support of action by the County on behalf of Mr. Tindall. Further testimony was considered from six (6) neighbors and friends of Mr. Tindall regarding his use of the property as his personal residence and general statements of character. Copies of the exhibits received have been retained in the file.

The primary issue presented by the witnesses on behalf of Escambia County was the increased commercial traffic resulting from the use of the subject property as the primary business location for Mr. Tindall's company, American Lighting & Signs of Florida, Inc. The photographs submitted by the County illustrate up to seven (7) vehicles on the property at any given time. At least three (3) of these vehicles are large commercial vehicles with some type of boom for lifting men and materials. One vehicle appears to be used for drilling. In addition to the vehicles, the photos reveal a forklift, building materials, ladders, and various sized commercial signs. The signs illustrated in the photos are large illuminated signs used by restaurants or other commercial or retail businesses. There also appears to be several personal vehicles parked on the property. Mr. Tindall testified that these vehicles are the property of independent contractors which work on site at the sign location. Mr. Tindall testified that these contractors park at the residence and are given a ride to the site. On behalf of Mr. Tindall, two (2) neighbors testified that the business operations located on the property were not a disturbance in the neighborhood and did not create a safety hazard on the adjacent roads. Mr. Tindall further testified of his efforts to coordinate deliveries by semi-trucks of materials never before 9 o'clock or after 5 o'clock each business day.

The County has alleged a violation of Escambia County Codes 6.04.01, 9.01.00(a)(5), 9.02.00(a)(b)(c), C.C.O. 30-30203(a)(b) and LDC 7.07.06. It appears from the testimony that both the Enforcement Officer, Mr. Littlejohn, and Mr. Tindall have met on several occasions in an effort to address the concerns of the neighbors as it related to the commercial use of this property.

FINDINGS OF FACT

The evidence presented by Mr. Tindall is sufficient to conclude his commercial use of the property located at 2100 Pullman Circle satisfies the requirements of a non-conforming use pursuant to 9.02.00, Land Development Code. Mr. Tindall uses the residence for both residential and commercial purposes. This dual use has existed since 1973. While the structure was destroyed by fire, it was by Mr. Tindall within a short period of time. It is also clear that the intensity of the use has increased significantly since business started in 1973. In fact, the intensity has increased dramatically over the last few years. Mr. Tindall acknowledged that his business has grown. To some extent the present situation is caused by the success of the business of American Lighting & Signs. This success has required Mr. Tindall acquire additional vehicles and employ the services of independent contractors for various trade areas in which he is not qualified. These independent contractors use the residence as a staging area before going to the job site in the morning. There was no evidence submitted to suggest that Mr. Tindall allowed these independent contractors to drive the various vehicles located on the property but it is not likely Mr. Tindall is able to drive each of the vehicles by himself with enough frequency to make them commercially feasible. As a factor of the increased business the amount of merchandise deliveries to the property and signs under repair on the property has dramatically increased over the past several years. It is clear that this increase in intensity of commercial use is not permitted for a non-conforming use under the Land Development Code.

CONCLUSION

It is necessary to balance the rights of Mr. Tindall to continue to use the property as a commercial non-conforming use with the concerns of the surrounding neighbors for safety and impact on property values. The Land Development Code allows a non-conforming use but such use shall not increase in intensity. It is clear that Mr. Tindall's business has increased in intensity in all aspects. To this regard, the concerns of the neighboring property owners over a large scale commercial sign business in their residential neighborhood are legitimate. Review of the case law in Florida on the issue reveals that, absent an expressed provision which allows forfeiture of the non-conforming use upon an increase in intensity, such an increase does not by itself eliminate the right of the property owner to the non-conforming use. 3M National Advertising Company v. City of Tampa Code Enforcement Board, 587 So.2d 640 (2nd Dist. 1991). The case supports the proposition that a land owner can return the non-conforming use intensity level to its established status quo. The Escambia County Land Development Code does not contain a provision which allows forfeiture of the right to an existing non-conforming use in the case of an increase in intensity such as this. As such, it is clear that the property does not lose its non-conforming use status simply by virtue of the increased business intensity. Rather, Mr. Tindall should be required to reduce the existing intensity to the level that existed on the date the non-conforming use was established. It has been suggested by the County that the significant date for the purposes of establishing non-conforming use intensity level was January 1989. It was the burden of Mr. Tindall to establish by testimony and evidence the level of intensity for the business use as of that date. The only evidence that I can find regarding the early use of the property for commercial purposes was the testimony of Mr. Tindall that his business has grown from one pick-up truck and himself to what it is now. This is supported by the testimony of some of the surrounding neighbors who lived in the neighborhood since before Mr. Tindall bought the property.

Therefore, this Special Magistrate finds that there has been a violation of the non-conforming use requirements of the Escambia County Code due to the increased intensity of commercial use on the property. Mr. Tindall is directed to reduce the commercial use of the property to the levels in existence on or about January 1989. Specifically, the commercial use of the property shall consist of no more than one commercial vehicle at any given time and no personal vehicles related to employees or independent contractors related to the business. Likewise, the associated machinery, inventory, materials and commercial signs located on the property shall be reduced or eliminated. No work by employees or independent contractors shall be performed on signs or vehicles on the property. Mr. Tindall has sixty (60) days from the date of this Order to correct the violation and make the adjustments described herein.

Following such time, Mr. Tindall will be assessed a fine in the amount of $250.00 per day for each day the violation continues. All other matters found in the Order attached hereto shall be incorporated herein by reference. These findings of fact and conclusions shall be an attachment to the Order signed March 20, 2006.

ORDER

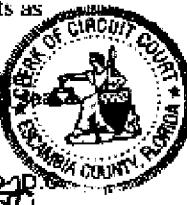

Pursuant to Chapter 30, Article II, Section 30-34, Escambia County Code of Ordinances, this matter, after written notice to all parties, was heard on July 5, 2011, before Robert O. Beasley, Special Master, Office of Code Enforcement Special Master, in the Old County Courthouse, BCC Chambers, 223 South Palafox Place, Pensacola, Florida 32501 upon an alleged violation of the Ordinances of Escambia County, State of Florida, to specifically include Escambia County Codes 6.04.01, 9.01.00(a)(b), 9.02.00(a)(b)(c), C.C.O. 30-30203(a)(b) and LDC 7.07.06.

B. Statement of the Case

The matter came to hearing upon a Notice of Violation issued June 13, 2011. Exhibits A-J were submitted by the County and Exhibit 1 was submitted by the Respondent. Included in these exhibits was an Order of the Special Magistrate dated March 20, 2006, ("2006 Order"), which specifically addressed the same issues presented in the current Notice of Violation. The primary issue presented by the witnesses on behalf of Escambia County was the increased commercial traffic resulting from the use of the subject property as the primary business location for Mr. Tindall's company, Allied Services of NW FL LLC. These are the same complaints as presented in 2006 when the residence was being used by Mr. Tindall's then business, American Lighting & Signs of Florida, Inc. The photographs submitted by the County and neighbors illustrate multiple vehicles on the property at various times. Primarily these vehicles consist of up to three white pick-up trucks with ladder racks and one other large commercial vehicle such as a bucket truck or drilling truck. The photographic evidence revealed that these vehicles shared license plates at times. Mr. Tindall insists that two of the white pickup trucks are his personal vehicles and the other one belongs to a relative, Mr. Mincks, who visits often. Also parked at the residence on a regular basis are a white Saturn and a Dodge truck which Mr. Tindall has identified as belonging to his wife. Some of the photos reveal two other vehicles (Dodge truck and a blue SUV) which are parked by the fence on the side yard. Mr. Tindall claims that the two vehicles parked on the side by the fence are workers employed by his neighbor and he allows them to park there for convenience.

It is the position of Mr. Tindall that he is in compliance with the 2006 Order as he continues to maintain only one "commercial vehicle" on the property at any one time. This position centers the debate, in part, on the issue of whether the three white pickup trucks are "commercial vehicles." While I agree that the type of vehicle in question, a pickup truck, could be either personal or commercial use, these trucks are all white and are equipped with ladder racks. They appear to be the same vehicles which were parked on the property in 2006, but without the name on the side. One truck does appear to be titled in the name of Villachai Mincks and not Mr. Tindall. However, the evidence reflects that January Minecks (the daughter of Mr. Tindall) is an officer of Allied Services of NWFL LLC. Mr. Tindall acknowledged that Mr. Mincks works in his business, at least part time. Finally, the issue with the "borrowing" of license plates is concerning. It appears that Mr. Tindall is moving a plate from one vehicle to another depending on his need for a vehicle. All of the above evidence leads to the conclusion that the three white pickup trucks are being used for commercial purposes in support of the ongoing sign business. While it is possible that Mr. Tindall and his wife use five different vehicles for their personal use, it is more likely that three of those vehicles are being used for commercial purposes.

The above analysis is unnecessary to reach a conclusion that Mr. Tindall is in violation of the 2006 Order once the testimony of the various neighbors is considered. The neighbors testified about multiple commercial vehicles coming and going on a daily basis. One photograph, Exhibit I, shows a loaded ladder truck with a boom lift trailer attached, in addition to a large bucket truck. This is a clear violation of the 2006 Order. Other neighbors testified that they witnessed employees parking at the residence and then taking another vehicle to start their work day. This activity was specifically prohibited in the 2006 Order.

It appears Mr. Tindall has made an effort to comply with the 2006 Order. The amount of business activity related to the assemblage of commercial signs appears to have ceased and there is an effort to control the number of vehicles at the property at any one time. It also appears that the size of this business is such that it may be impossible to base it operations from a residence and maintain compliance. Mr. Tindall simply has too much equipment and too many vehicles in his business to continue to use his residence as an office without interfering with the rights of his neighbors to peacefully enjoy their property¹. In a way he is a victim of his own success. Mr. Tindall could move his operations to a commercial facility but that would obviously increase his operating expense. However, his cost savings should not come at the expense of his neighbors.

¹ The evidence submitted included a document reflecting certain restrictive covenants which may still exist and pertain to the use of the subject property. While there does not seem to be an existing Homeowners Association to enforce these covenants, Mr. Tindall does appear to be in violation thereof.

D. Decision

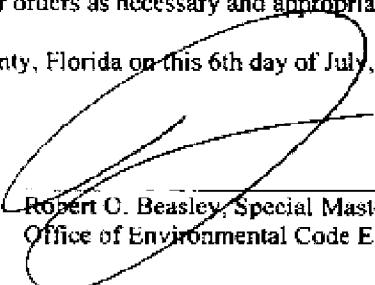

Mr. Tindall shall immediately cease and desist using the property for support of his commercial operations in violation of the 2006 Order. By way of clarification, the 2006 Order includes vehicles which could be personal use vehicles, like pickup trucks, but are in fact being used in support of the business operations. Failure to do so will result in a fine in the amount of $500.00 per day, which shall commence on ten (10) days from the date of this Order. The amount of the penalty is justified as this is a second violation. Mr. Tindall shall continue to maintain compliance with the 2006 Order and shall not expand his commercial use of the residence. Specifically, the commercial use of the property shall consist of no more than one commercial vehicle at any given time and no personal vehicles related to employees or independent contractors related to the business. This includes white pickup trucks with ladder racks, regardless of who owns them. This Order shall constitute a continuing injunction regarding this activity and the Code Enforcement Officers shall periodically check the property and record an affidavit of violation at any time a violation shall exists. There shall be a $500.00 fine assessed each time an affidavit of violation is recorded.

A cost award in favor of Escambia County in the amount of $1100.00 is granted. This fine shall be forwarded to the Board of County Commissioners. Under the authority of 162.09 (1) F.S. and Sec 30-34(d), Code of Ordinances, the Board of County Commissioners will certify to the Special Magistrate all costs imposed pursuant to this Order. All Monies owing hereunder shall constitute a lien on ALL YOUR REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY, including any property involved herein, which lien can be enforced by foreclosure and as provided by law.

You have the right to appeal orders of the Special Magistrate to the Circuit Court of Escambia County. If you wish to appeal, you must give notice of such in writing to both the Environmental Enforcement Division at Escambia Central Complex, 3363 W. Park Place, Pensacola, Florida 32504 and the Escambia County Circuit Court no later than 30 days from the date of this Order. Failure to file a timely Written Notice of Appeal will waive your rights to appeal.

Jurisdiction is retained to enter such further orders as necessary and appropriate.
