FINAL JUDGEMENT

The case came before the Court for final hearing on May 15, 2023. The parties previously mediated the case and reached an agreement which the Plaintiff indicated Defendant failed to fulfill. Both parties appeared at mediation and the final hearing.

The case involves a contract for the Defendant to build a home for the Plaintiff. Testimony was taken from both parties and the court reviewed the filings.

The Defendant in this case did not deal with the Plaintiff in good faith. The testimony of both parties established that the Defendant failed to respond to contact requests, to keep the Plaintiff advised of any delays or problems with the construction or work diligently to move the project to completion. There is also clearly a misunderstanding between the parties as to a floor allowance of $5,000. It is unclear if this confusion is on the part of the Plaintiff or the result of misadvice by the Defendant. However, the contract is clear in that the flooring allowance was to build in "wiggle room" in the costs of flooring for the property. It is unquestionable that the Defendant in this case unnecessarily caused a great deal of grief to the Plaintiff. It is also true that the Defendant made little to no effort to advise the Plaintiff of the reason for any delays or to keep the Plaintiff apprised of any setbacks or difficulties related to the project. Defendant testified that he never got all the paperwork required to move forward with the project. All indications are that these delays were either the fault of, or greatly contributed to by, the Defendant.

However, the court is constrained to providing relief based only on the law applicable to the case. As such, it is the terms of the mediated agreement that control the relief to be granted. The parties reached an agreement on April 14, 2023, that the Defendant would clear all debris by May 13, 2023. That did not occur. Thus, the Defendant is in breach of the mediation agreement and the court is required to enter judgement in accord with that agreement.

The terms of the agreement were that should the Defendant fail to comply with the mediation agreement the Plaintiff would be entitled to final judgement. Therefore, it is,

ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that final judgement is issued for the PLAINTIFF. Consistent with the mediation agreement the Plaintiff is entitled to final judgement in the amount of $7,350. That is the amount so awarded. The Plaintiff shall recover from the Defendant $7,350.

For all of which let execution issue.

DONE AND ORDERED in chambers, Pensacola, Escambia County, Florida.
