FINAL JUDGMENT

At a ZOOM Final Hearing on December 3, 2020, the plaintiff appeared with counsel. The defendant appeared representing himself. Plaintiff filed this Complaint for Unlawful Detainer after they purchased a foreclosed property from the original lender in September of this year. The prior owner, Michael Emmons, who lost the property in foreclosure, remained in possession after the foreclosure sale which occurred in February, 2020. The bank which purchased the property at the foreclosure sale, subsequently sold the property to plaintiff seven months after the foreclosure. Plaintiff attempted to get possession by giving the occupants Notice to vacate by October 7, 2020. The defendant refused. As a result, this Unlawful Detainer Complaint was filed.

From the evidence presented, it is clear that the plaintiff is the lawful owner of the property and entitled to possession. The defendant argues that he believed he had reached an agreement with the lender to bring the account current by adding the past due amount of his mortgage payments to the loan. This possible agreement was never reduced to a written agreement, and the foreclosure went forward to Final Judgment and auction with proper Notice to the defendant. The defendant does not understand why his $40,000.00 equity is being ignored. The defendant was advised to get legal advice.

ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that the plaintiff shall recover from the defendant possession of 3023 Oak Pointe Drive, Pensacola, Escambia County, Florida 32505 for which let writ of possession and execution issue ten (10) days after the date of this Judgment.

DONE AND ORDERED in chambers, Pensacola, Escambia County, Florida.
